SHORT SESSION OF BOROUGH COUNCIL HELD LAST EVENING

Property Owners Paying Sewer Claims Very
Promptly, Is Report of
Boro Solicitor Urey.

TOLICENSE JITNEYS

Eight members of Borough Council, with President Rosser, participated in the regular semi-monthly meeting of Council held in the Borough building last evening. There was very little business transacted and the session was a brief one.

Burgess Kittelberger reported but four arrears during February with the collection of $25 in fines.

Clearfield Trust Co., Treasurer, reported a balance of $31,265.79 in the different funds of the Borough, the bond fund containing $21,000 of that amount.

Borough Solicitor Urey reported collections of $672.41 on Martin and Barclay street sewers and stated that he had to file liens against but four properties along the two sewers.

Secretary A. B. Reed of the Shade Tree commission presented the resignation of Dr. R. B. Bailey as a member of the commission, on account of his having removed from town. The resignation was accepted and President Rosser appointed Roll R. Thompson to succeed Dr. Bailey. Secretary Reed asked for an appropriation of $60 for 1923 and the same was granted.

Robert Sands and H. H. Bowes were present to complain of damage done to the properties on Turnpike avenue by surface water. The complaint was referred to the Street Committee or report at next meeting.

Simeon Cross was present and made complaint regarding his connection into alley sewer in rear of his property.

Cal. Johnson, representing the Workmen's Insurance Co., was present and asked permission to install a gas tank and curb pump in front of their Nichols street property and same was referred to Street Committee.

J. M. Rowles thought his sewer assessment on Martin street was excessive and asked Council to cut same in two, but was informed this could not be done, each property along the sewer must bear its pro rata share of the expense.

The question of an Ordinance covering the licensing and regulating of jitney and passenger carrying by automobiles over the streets of Clearfield was discussed and referred to the Street Committee for action.

HARDING-HUGHES FOR WORLD COURT; TO STUMP COUNTRY

Washington, March 6.—President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes during the long recess of Congress, will "stump" the country for American participation in the Permanent Court of International Justice at the Hague, according to close friends of the executives.

In much the same manner as Woodrow Wilson, four years ago, made an extended speaking tour of the country west of the Mississippi in the futile hope of obtaining the support of the people in the League of Nations question, President Harding this summer will go over a similar route in a direct appeal to the people, asking that the country ratify his proposal for American participation in the Arbitration Court.

Congress has provided for additional funds for an extended speaking tour of the President. Last year the President spent only one half of his semi-annual $25,000 fund for traveling expenses. In the deficiency bill, passed in the closing hours of Congress, it was provided that the unexpended balance must be added to the present funds.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Livergood at Woodland, a 9-pound boy baby.

THEY COME IN BUNCHES FOR THIS LOCK HAVEN FAMILY; FOUR PAIRS OF TWINS IS RECORD—THREE IN THREE YEARS

Lock Haven, March 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Watkins, residing on the Lock Haven Star Route, Woodward township, Clinton county, are believed to hold the record as parents of twins in this section, their fourth "set" of twins, a girl and a boy, having been born to them at their home Thursday. Three of the "pairs" were born in the past three years, which is also believed to establish a record. Mr. and Mrs. Watkins have been married eighteen years and are the parents of thirteen children.

Their first born were twins, William and Ward, now 17 years of age; other children are Edward, Samuel, Andrew, Daniel, Minnie and the latest three sets of twins, Raymond and Roy, Helen and Grace, and the most recent arrivals, who will be named David and Sarah.

Mr. Watkins is compelled to undertake the support of his large family with only one arm, his left arm having been shot off when he was but 16 years of age. He engages in farming and works as a laborer. He is 35 years of age; was born at Marsh Creek and removed to Woodward township when about 9 years of age.

Bar Meets To Honor Ex-Judge A. O. Smith

At a meeting of the Clearfield County Bar Association held in the court room at 10:30 this morning resolutions on the death of ex-Judge Allison O. Smith were presented by a committee composed of A. H. Woodward, W. C. Pentz and R. D. Snodgrass. The resolutions paid glowing tribute to the deceased jurist and were read by Mr. Woodward, whose emotions overcame him at times during the reading. The resolutions were unanimously adopted after which Judge Bell appointed a committee consisting of Geo. R. Bigler, chairman, W. A. Hagerty, James A. Gleason, John B. McGrath and J. P. O'Laughlin a general committee to arrange for a memorial session of the Bar Association at which time the resolutions will be presented and opportunity given for personal tributes of the members of the bar to their deceased colleague and friend. The bar voted to attend the funeral this afternoon in a body.

COMPENSATION LAWS OF THE STATE BEING GIVEN MUCH CONSIDERATION AT THIS SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE

Sweeping Changes Are Provided In Draft of
New Law Pinchot Offers for Criticism.

BOOSTS BENEFITS

Harrisburg, Mar. 6. (U. P.)—The new compensation code made for the following considerations that are not contained in the present act:

1. Extra-territoriality.
2. Compensation for occupational disease.
3. A seven instead of a ten-day waiting period.
4. 65 2/3 instead of 60 per cent of wages for disability.
5. Total disability compensation for life.
6. Indemnity for loss of fingers, toes, hearing in one or both ears and impairment of vision.
7. Payment of compensation to personal representative if there are no dependents.
8. Commutation of compensation for payments of mortgage only.

Harrisburg, Mar. 6. (U. P.)—The draft of the workers' compensation code which Governor Pinchot has offered for criticism and for which he disclaims responsibility, makes sweeping changes in the system embodied in the acts now on the statute books governing employers' liability in Pennsylvania.

The draft as submitted by the Governor for general discussion by all interested was prepared under the direction of Attorney General Woodward by compensation experts close to the administration. It was learned.

Four basic changes are incorporated in the new code. The first, in the order in which they appear in the proposed act, is the provision for extra-territoriality. Under this plan employees working in other states for Pennsylvania concerns are entitled to the benefits of the act in this state.

The second change in the law is to extend the provisions of what constitutes an "injury" to diseases that develop during employment or occupational diseases.

Revision of the compensation schedule from 60 to 65 2/3 per cent of wages for different degrees of disability constitutes the third important change proposed.

The fourth sweeping recommendation in the proposed act governs the rights of widows and dependents. Under the disability schedule the loss of fingers, thumbs, or toes may be compensable, while other departures are the inclusion in this class of such disabilities as loss of hearing of one or both ears or impairment of vision as well as loss of eyesight as at present provided.

Total disability may extend for life under the new act. The waiting period has been lessened from 10 to 7 days as the time for commencement of the disability.

The most startling change in the compensation bill is the extension of the benefits of dependents while the most drastic from the standpoint of administration of act is the restriction of commutations to beneficiaries.

If an employee dies without dependents compensation is to be paid to his personal representative, a thing not done at the present time. If there are no dependents or beneficiaries $25,533.500, but Dr. Finegan said no requests had been made for the difference of $477,345, as economic administration, he said, had resulted in saving the $485,586, which are available.

that the Board shall not commute the compensation payable to any employee or the dependent other than a debt secured by mortgage or a judgment filed as a lien upon the property of such employee or dependent, or to pay funeral or other expenses made in connection with compensation.

THE LOWLY MULE ON THE DECREASE IN PENNSYLVANIA

Harrisburg, Mar. 6. (U. P.)—The lowly mule is the only item of livestock in Pennsylvania who has been increasing in numbers up to the present day, according to figures issued by the Department of Agriculture.

The number of cattle in the state reached the high water mark in 1900 when there were 1,806,847. The high mark for sheep was in 1860 when there were 1,822,357. Sheep have dwindled in number to only 503,711 in 1920. The highest number of swine was reached in 1890 when there were 1,278,920. Horses were most numerous in 1890 when there were 618,660. The rise of the motor car decreased the number of horses to 505,969 in 1920, a decrease of 18 per cent in 30 years. The increasing mule numbered only 2,259 in 1860 and reached a high mark in 1920 with 35,081.

DR. FINEGAN IS UNTANGLING THE SCHOOL FUNDS

Harrisburg, March 6.—The appropriation of $2,871,911.00 provided under the budget appropriation bill to meet the deficiency in funds for payments on the state share of allotment to school districts, due February 1 last, is sufficient if unexpended balances in school funds are made available, Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, state superintendent of public instruction, told a sub-committee of the House appropriations committee today.

The committee did not go into the extent of needs for the next biennium, although Representative Thomas M. Whitman, Westmoreland county, sought to bring up the matter. Dr. Finegan announced his willingness to appear and answer all questions.

Representative Whitman started to inquire as to the difference of $4,500,000 in Dr. Finegan's estimates last fall of $35,000,000 for the coming two years, and recent estimates of $39,500,000, but the committee held that it should confine itself to the deficiency bill at present.

Earlier today Dr. Finegan transmitted to Governor Pinchot a statement of school needs, but the superintendent made no statement in reference to the Governor's letter to Chairman Haver, of the Appropriations committee, criticizing the manner in which estimates have been prepared. The governor declared the "essential necessity in the matter is in the interest of the children of the state and must not be allowed to be harmfully affected."

The $2,871,911.00 deficiency, Dr. Finegan told the sub-committee, is only to meet payments under the Education act to February 1 last. Two years ago, he said, he made an estimate of the cost for these payments during the following two years, $25,533,500. The legislature provided this and Governor Scriven cut off $2,000,000. The actual deficiency on hand at the present time, he said, is $2,871,911.00. The actual deficiency on hand at the present time, he said, is $2,871,911.00. The actual deficiency on hand at the present time, he said, is $2,871,911.00.

that the Board shall not commute the compensation payable to any employee or the dependent other than a debt secured by mortgage or a judgment filed as a lien upon the property of such employee or dependent, or to pay funeral or other expenses made in connection with compensation.

COMMERCIAL CLUB ENTERTAINS LADIES IN ELEGANT MANNER

The Ladies' Night observed by the Commercial Club last evening under the direction of President J. Paul Frantz and the hard-working entertainment committee, headed by R. S. Nightingale, was a great success in every particular.

Over one hundred members and invited guests were seated in the large dining room at the Dimeling hotel promptly on the hour scheduled and a fine dinner was immediately served.

The entertainment for the evening was of the highest order and the vocal solos by Miss Amelia Kolbe and Mrs. Harkins and the readings by Miss McMurray were thoroughly enjoyed and all responded to several encores. Miss Pearl Moore, president of the Junior Women's Club, responded to a call for a speech with a very neat and witty talk, in which she implied that the Junior Women's Club would be very glad to act as the Women's Auxiliary to the Commercial Club, as was suggested by President Frantz.

An orchestra was present for the first half hour of the dinner. Great disappointment was shown when a telegram, with regrets, was read from Rudolph Valentino.

The Club dispensed with the greater part of the regular business session, but listened very attentively to an explanation of the Clearfield County Boy's Disease Free Potato Club, and this important proposition will no doubt have the sanction of the Club and will be explained more fully to the general public within a few days.

A representative of the R. L. Polk Company requested the floor and asked for an endorsement of the work of this organization in Clearfield in order that he might go out and solicit business on the basis of that endorsement. The endorsement was very quickly given but just as quickly withdrawn when protests were uttered by members and the matter will be thoroughly investigated before the Polk company receives a full endorsement.

Washington, March 5.—Because he did not have the full support of the Senate, James G. McNary, of Texas today declined to accept a recess appointment as comptroller of the currency.

Washington, March 5.—In the face of strong indications from the White House that President Harding will appoint James G. McNary, of Texas, to the position of comptroller of the currency, McNary today.

SEEKING TO PROVE USE AS DEFENSE

New Orleans, March 3.—Covering the 150 air-line miles from San Antonio to New Orleans in six hours flying time, twelve fliers of the United States Army Air Service in six De Havilland planes landed here at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, completing the first lap of a trip to Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

The squadron left Kelly Field at San Antonio shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. The only stop was at Houston, where the fliers ate lunch and rested an hour and a half. From Houston to New Orleans the flight was uninterrupted. The last 200 miles from Lake Charles was covered in two hours flat.

Captain Thomas G. Lanphier, commanding the squadron, said that low clouds interfered somewhat with the visibility, but there were no accidents. Most of the day's flight was at an altitude of 5000 feet and above, the squadron maintaining a V-shaped wedge formation. The flagship Man of War, with Captain Lanphier and Lieutenant I. G. Moorman, was the first to land, followed at two-minute intervals by the other planes.

The aviators were entertained to-night at a banquet given by the Military Order of the World War and the Aviation Board.

The squadron will "take off" at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow for the second lap of the journey, which will take the fliers to Montgomery, Ala.

Plans for the aerial defense of the Panama Canal and of the Gulf coast ports will depend in a large measure in the success of the present trip. This is the first time land machines have been tried out in a fight across water and should the venture prove successful it will prove the feasibility of mustering the entire air force of the country in the West Indies on "forty-eight hours' notice, it was stated.

"BAR FLIES" ONLY BAR TO DRY NATION SAYS HAZELTINE

Philadelphia, Mar. 6. (U. P.)—Prohibition will be absolutely effective in America in another fifty years when the "bar flies" have had time to die off, according to Frederick A. Hazeltine, new prohibition chief of Eastern Pennsylvania and Southern New Jersey.

"We have these old bar flies on our hands and we have to wait for them to go away," Hazeltine said. "If they persist in drinking the stiff boot-legger, who persist in that business will sell them then they won't last the fifteen years and we shall be rid of them sooner."

John E. McGrath, Esq., and Postmaster John Gorman, of Houtzdale, attended the funeral of ex-Judge Allison O. Smith today.

Smith Hoyt, is able to be around again to greet his friends after having been laid up at the Park House of some time by an attack of pleuro-pneumonia.

O. C. Norris and H. J. Thompson, two Curwensville young men who are largely interested in coal mining in this section of the county, left Sunday for Springfield, Mass., and other northwestern cities to close up some yearly contracts for coal supply. The agreements to be entered into will be for a year, dating from April 1st.

Fred Lowler, who has been connected with the Libb drug store for the past six months, has resigned his position to accept a more lucrative situation in one of the large drug emporiums at Gettysburg, Pa. His host of Curwensville friends wish him an unbounded success and prosperity in his new home.

A union literary society will be held in the High School building this coming Friday evening. It is a sort of contest between the Gen. Patton and Col. Irvin societies. The full program will appear in the Progress Curwensville letter at the proper time.

Miss Walters and Miss Tate, both instructors in the High School building, spent the week-end with their parents, the former at East Freedom and the latter at Duncansville, Pa.

Miss Alice Harley was taken suddenly ill on Saturday and is now confined to her home on West State street. Her physician pronounced her ailment as strangulation of the bowels.

"Grandmother" Bixler, North Pine street, is quite ill suffering from an attack of the grippe.

Samuel Leonard was called to his old home at Everett, Pa., last week on account of the death and funeral of his father.

Mrs. C. W. Appleby, who spent all of last week with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. B. H. Conly, in this place, returned to her home in Tarentum, Pa., yesterday.

Arthur Robison and wife, of Punxsutawney, came in yesterday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Lex Caldwell held this afternoon.

Miss Lucy Spencer of Grampian, stenographer in the office of the Borough agency, was stricken suddenly Saturday by a heart attack and within a few minutes was quite critical. She is at the home of S. P. Brossler and improving.

Members of Greenwood Club held a general meeting the latter part of last week and among other matters of importance elected the following as officers to serve during the year: President L. C. Norris, of Clearfield; secretary Dan Irvin; treasurer, John W. Norris. A board of seven directors and a house committee were also chosen. Some repairs and improvements will be made to the club's holdings, and special attention will be given to road improvement leading to the club house and grounds. The Greenwood club house is becoming famous for miles around as a summer resort and were it not for the fact that the membership is limited to a certain number, names could be added that would make a scroll several yards in length.

Porter Searchlight Fyles took Sunday as a day for rummaging around in the brush looking for fox and groundhog tracks. He made a discovery which leads to authentic record that buck deer shed horns in early March. He was exhibiting a four-prong antler, found in the woods near Bill Bell's, that had been rubbed from a buck's head within a few days. The flesh was hardly dry on it. He saw the tree the animal used to de-horn himself.

A 25c luncheon will be served by the Ladies Aid of the M. E. church on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, consisting of salad, hot rolls andwiches and coffee.

If Back Hurts Flush Kidneys

Drink Plenty of Water and Take Glass of Salts Before Breakfast Occasionally

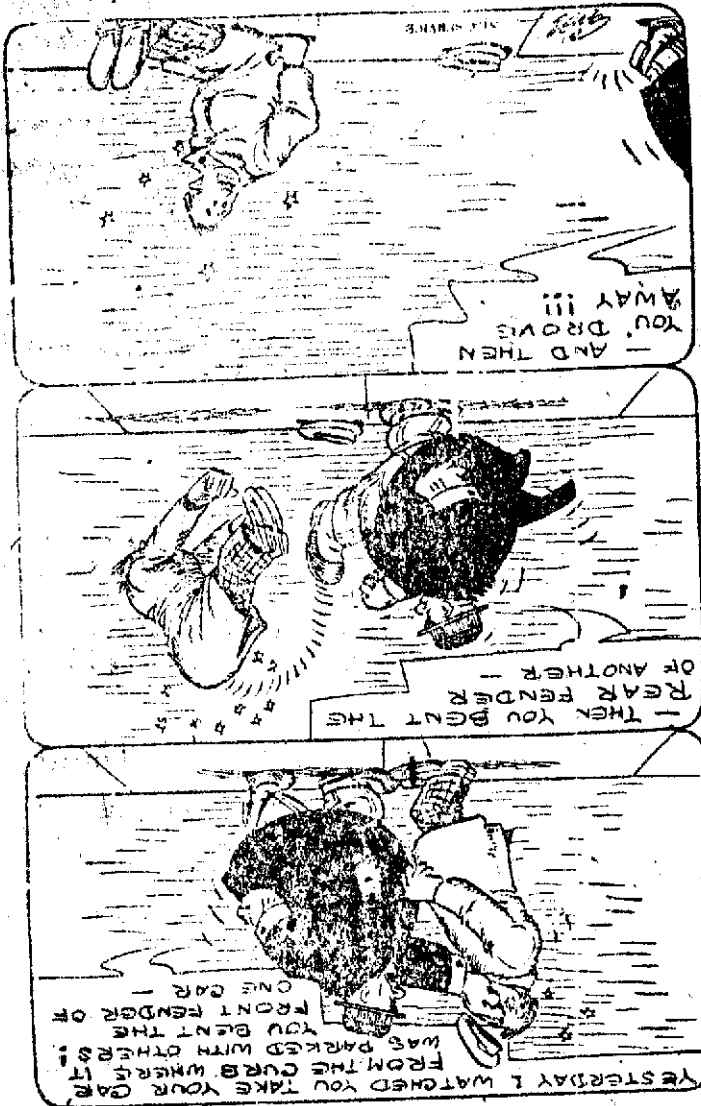

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active. Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

BRINGING UP FATHER—TEN YEARS AGO

by McManus

Don't use the whip on tired nerves — it means trouble

When the day's work is hard, you can't make it easier with stimulants.

Ask any doctor for the facts.

You can't over-draw energy without paying.

Coffee contains the nerve-stimulating drug, caffeine. When coffee is used to overcome fatigue, it means whipping the tired nerves into a run.

You may seem to get added strength—but there's a settlement coming for an over-drawn account.

Take care!

Rest is the cure for fatigue. Health is the equipment for hard tasks.

Rest and health are interfered with when nerves are over-stimulated.

You've seen plenty of proof. How many people do you know who say, "I have to go slow on coffee; it keeps me awake nights?"

How is it in your own case? Have you counted restless night hours after the evening cup of coffee?

Treat your health sensibly that you may meet your task capably.

Don't try to draw strength from over-driven nerves. That way lies weakness. Don't increase over-work by using stimulants. You are merely postponing and increasing the penalties.

Be fair to yourself!

For a hot, comforting beverage, drink Postum and let nerves have their natural rest.

There's charm without harm in Postum—a delightful, satisfying cereal beverage; rich, seal-brown in color, delicious in flavor and aroma, and containing nothing that can irritate nerves or disturb health. Postum is safe and enjoyable for every member of the family.

Thousands who formerly used coffee or tea, and began to pay the penalties of nerve-stimulation, now use Postum and praise its comforting goodness.

The road to health is a good road for anybody to follow.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully 20 minutes.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The dollar is getting smaller weekly. Monday last it had only the same purchasing power as 60.7 cents in 1911, according to the index number of general prices compiled by Irving Fisher.

The peak of high prices was reached in May, 1920, when a dollar bought only as much as 40.5 cents in 1918. The dollar, as prices fell, the dollar rose. A year ago, in January, 1922, the dollar purchased the same amount of commodities as 72.6 cents before the war.

The purchasing power of the present dollar the last four weeks has been as follows:

ended February 10	68.1c
ended February 17	62c
ended February 24	62c
ended March 3	60.7c

The following from Monday's Altoona Mirror contains much more of the same than poetry:

There is a lot of talk these days about law enforcement and so little about law observance.

The principal subject under which it is being said, both in private conversation and from the public platform, is the prohibition laws.

A speaker at a club meeting in Altoona last week, in discussing the same that are facing the American people today, declared that half of the people of the United States are against the liquor laws.

He declared it was the duty of every citizen to obey the law of the land as long as it was a law, but the present law should be repealed because it was not being enforced, from his viewpoint, could read.

One conclusion among those who have given the subject of prohibition the whole of their minds is that the enormous money that can be made at the sale of intoxicants, what they are, what of the effects after the stomach.

They are out of bootlegging business would go to the state where men are tried and convicted of selling liquor are violating the liquor laws themselves by carrying their flask with them in their grips as they travel from place to place.

Right here is where the trouble comes in with prohibition. It is not the fault of the law at all. It is the fault of the man who violates the law, and the judge that transports a bottle of hooch should receive the same penalty that he imposes on the victim who is caught in the speak-easy or on the street with a bottle of the same concoction.

There are other laws in Pennsylvania and some national laws that are being violated and because they are violated is the very reason why they were on the statute books.

Ought we repeal the law against robbery because some one has the temerity to enter a store or a house at night and steal that which is not his own?

There are robberies being enacted every day of every week of every year and no doubt there will be for many years to come.

There are laws against vice in the underworld and these same laws are being violated every day. Is that any reason why they should be repealed? Who would want to go back to the days before we had these laws?

Law enforcement is a very difficult proposition on any subject. It has even resulted in wars.

We hear much about the so-called personal liberty as applied to prohibition. Prohibition is nothing more than a protection against an enemy that is ten times more deadly than any that ever made an attack on the United States.

It was never thought that prohibition would prohibit any more than the law against robbery will stop stealing, the law against murder stop killing, the laws against morality stop men and women moral or any other law as long as people believe themselves above the law and judges so far forget the dignity of the law they take a solemn oath and obligation to uphold and to violate its most vital provisions; to say nothing of making it known publicly that they hold contempt for the law.

There is no immediate danger of the prohibition law being repealed. There is not one half of the people in favor of repealing the law.

While the prohibition law may not be effectively enforced for some years to come, it is safe to say that it will prohibit what it is intended to prohibit in course of a few years, just to the same extent the laws against murder, arson, larceny, embezzlement, etc.,

How To Keep Your Baby Well

A Weekly Talk to Mothers Issued Through the Baby's Prophylactic Clinic, Henry Phipps Institute 7th & Lombard Streets, Philadelphia.

YOUR CHILD'S VANITY

Do not talk about your child in his presence. To discuss his character within his own hearing, especially with someone who is not a member of the family, will hurt his feelings if he is sensitive and shy, or make him conceited if he is inclined to be forward. In any case, it gives him the feeling that he is of undue importance, which is likely to make him egotistical.

Even if you are proud of your child, do not tell stories about him that will make him vain. It is a bad idea to praise or to censure him in public. Take him by himself to tell him of his virtues or his faults. In the first place, this will make a deeper impression; in the second, it will make him feel there is an understanding between him and you because no one else is present.

It is likewise a poor policy to let children hear gossip—unfavorable comments about neighbors—to whom in all probability you are courteous and friendly. Children are sometimes wiser than you think they are. They may come to doubt your sincerity.

To want our child to "show off" in public is another bad thing. It exaggerates his good opinion of himself because his audience is sure to make a fuss over him, and in most instances to overestimate his ability. Fortunately, the days for children to "show pieces" are out of style. Children are now differently taught. Unfortunately, however, most modern parents try so hard to give their boys and girls every possible educational and recreational advantage, that the youngsters come to believe that the world is made for their pleasure and comfort.

Teach your child to be natural. Encourage and praise him, when you can, but show him that, after all, he plays but a very small part in the scheme of things.

McNARY COULDN'T

comptroller of the currency despite the failure of the Senate to approve his nomination, Senator James Couzens, Republican, of Michigan, today issued a formal statement in which he made public for the first time the charges against McNary.

These charges involved McNary's transaction with his own bank at El Paso, Tex., and were the subject of a long investigation by the Senate banking and currency committee.

Among the charges made by Couzens against McNary were:

"1. That, for a period of more than five years, he was a continuous borrower from the bank of which he was president (First National Bank of El Paso, Tex.) in amounts ranging from $10,000 to $100,000, unsecured."

"2. That he, as directing head of the bank, was continuously criticized for excessive loans made to officers and directors; that, at one time, 88 per cent of the capital and surplus of the bank was loaned directly to officers and directors of the bank, and 9 per cent of the capital and surplus of the same bank to corporations in which said officials were interested."

Comparatively Unimportant. Mrs. Strongminded (about to start with the picnic party)—"Let me see—here are the wraps, here's the lunch basket, here's the opaca glass, and here's the bundle of umbrellas. I think we've got everything, and yet—children, we haven't forgotten anything, have we?" Husband and Father (standing meekly at the horses' heads)—"Still I get in now, my dear?" Mrs. Strongminded—"Why, to be sure, James. I knew there was something else."—Dallas News.

Chancellor Cuno may ask the Reichstag for authority to break off diplomatic relations with France. It appears to us that France, by her course, has already broken whatever relations might have existed.

President Harding has once more shown to the people of the nation that he is above the bickering of party ham stringing. Many of the bitter ender anti-League men in the Senate and in the Republican party misinterpreted the 1920 elections to mean that America wanted to be selfish and greedy, looking only to her own interests and forgetful of the fact that the well being of others contributes to our own safety. No question but that this view is held by the most powerful men in the party today, but Mr. Harding takes an independent view and does not hesitate to take what appears to him to be the proper course. In this course he will have the support of the great American people.

A few days ago a prominent man of Philadelphia raced past a trolley car, striking three people dead. Although he says he had drunk only two glasses of ale, those who saw his performance and observed his actions, declare he was intoxicated to the point where he was unfit to handle a car. He is held under $35,000 bail for court to answer charges of at least second degree murder.

Immediately the city authorities started in to arrest all reckless drivers and other law breakers and the first day's work netted 114 law breakers. Too bad they didn't start to do them up before and keep them rounded up. This one man, who killed three, would probably have been among them.

Clearfield has a lot of the same kind of fellows and one needs to stand on the court house corner only about fifteen minutes any evening to confirm our statement. A very large percentage of the drivers here are operating with no tail lights and other defects which are contrary to law.

Clearfield police will save themselves a lot of trouble in the future hunting for that fellow who ran over somebody and made his escape by reason of having no light to show his license number if they start right in now to enforce every item of the traffic laws.

Talk about your tales of boyhood adventure. Does not Vladimir Ponkey, the young lad who made his own way from a little village in far-off Austria to Clearfield, have a right to all the copyrights ever granted? Vladimir must have the right kind of stuff in him, and it is fortunate that the percentage allowed his native country was not all used up, for America surely will be the better off for having as one of her adopted sons such a lad as Vladimir Ponkey.

This city is bowed in grief today by the loss of such a good citizen as ex-Judge Allison O. Smith. His reputation on the bench was one of fairness, impartiality and courage, his private life a model which all men could follow, and his good judgment sought after by men in all walks of life. Even in recent years, when his health was bad and it was generally known that he could not give the best attention to his clients, he was overwhelmed with work, which was indeed a testimonial to the high regard in which he was held. During the World War he responded to every call made on his time and worldly goods and was in every respect the ideal citizen.

STRONG PROTEST BY
GERMAN REICHSTAG;
FEAR ANNEXATION

Berlin, March 6.—Chancellor Cuno convened the Reichstag today for a meeting of strong protest against extension of the French occupation of the Ruhr and Rhineland territory. Even as Parliament met, word was received that the French had pushed forward further, occupying Remscheid, Kronenberg and Wipperfurth south by southeast of Düsseldorf. This move widens the base of the Ruhr salient.

Speakers of all parties of the Reichstag had vigorous speeches ready for the crowded house when the members met. The session was two days in advance of the date scheduled, Chancellor Cuno having called it hurriedly when Düsseldorf, Karlsruhe and Mannheim were occupied.

Paris, March 6.—The French have ready a refutation of Chancellor Cuno's charges and protests regarding extension of the occupied areas. A semi-official note denied that France had any idea of seeking annexations and points out that she has expended nearly forty-five billions of francs on the devastated areas while Germany's total reparations payments have been but six million marks and that the Germans, having manipulated the marks, are buying coal abroad.

Berlin March 6.—Germany cannot rinted products of the thirty-seven merchants who are taking a part in the wonderful institution known as "Dollar Day."

The snowfall today, after the spring fever brought on by the couple days warm weather, has only served to put everybody on their toes and nobody is sitting a single opportunity slip which would add to the benefits to be derived from the occasion.

The list of participating merchants is now complete. Read it over once more today and be ready to do your dollar shopping tomorrow by reading every advertisement in the paper.

consider intervention at the present time Chancellor Cuno declared in a speech to the Reichstag today, dealing with the situation in the Ruhr. Later the Chancellor states the German Government might allow a third party to intervene provided Germany entered into any agreement reached on an equal footing. Cuno frequently alluded to France's alleged atrocities in the occupied areas.

"It is strange that the world is aware of France's activities in the Ruhr without making any effort to intervene," he said.

A crowded house heard the Chancellor's address. The parliament had been convened two days before the date set, following French occupation of Mannheim, Karlsruhe and Darmstadt.

Grateful for Health Restored

Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill.—"I am willing to write to any girl or woman who is suffering from the troubles I had before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back always ached, so I could not go about my housework, and I had other troubles from weakness. I was this way for years, then my sister-in-law took the Vegetable Compound and recommended it to me. In the time I have been taking it and it has done wonders for me. I keep house and am able to do lots of work besides."—Mrs. HELEN SEVICK, 2111 Thomas St., Chicago, Ill.

Women suffering from female troubles, backache, irregularities, nervousness, and feeling down and weak should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Not only is the worth of this splendid medicine shown by such cases as this, but for nearly fifty years the same sort of experience has been reported by thousands of women.

Mrs. Sevick is willing to write to any girl or woman suffering from such troubles, and answer any questions they may like to ask.

PATENT LEATHER
COLONIAL PUMPS $4.95

For dresswear there is nothing that will ever quite equal the Patent Leather Colonial Pump. There's a swing to the lines that bring back the real days when our forefathers went through the stately minuet or tripped the lighter Virginia reel.

And these Pumps we are offering are masterpieces of design, following the real old Colonial lines for their general make-up, plus to day's superior shoemaking. They have the flowing Colonial tongue or which fancy buckles may be placed.

They did sell for much more money, but we want to clear them out and offer them at this price. Plenty of sizes and widths.

Declared To Be a Great Remedy For Building Up Weak, Ailing, Run-down People.

Dr. Thacher's celebrated Liver and Blood Syrup, which accomplished such remarkable results in the practice of this renowned physician, will be ready for distribution among the sick and suffering here immediately.

Of profound interest to the public in general and to the thousands of sufferers from the every-day complaints that make their lives miserable and destroy their efficiency and happiness, is the announcement that Dr. Thacher's celebrated Liver and Blood Syrup is at last to be placed within reach of every man, woman and child in this state.

This excellent remedy that has been creating a sensation as the result of its powers in restoring weak, run-down, suffering men and women to the joys of perfect health, is compounded from the favorite prescription of one of the most worthy physicians of the country—Dr. H. S. Thacher, who for many years practiced his profession with signal success in the city of Chattanooga, Tenn.

"Keep your liver working properly and nine times out of ten you will stay well and happy," said Dr. Thacher nearly a quarter of a century ago.

PROVED HIS THEORY

Dr. Thacher proved his theory of health was right, but he also found that a disordered liver oftentimes cripples the stomach, locks up the bowels and poisons the blood. So he set about to perfect a medicine that would, first, regulate the liver, second, tone up the stomach, third, clean out the intestines and fourth, purify the blood.

Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup was the result, and throughout his lifetime, this venerable doctor created a wide reputation as a specialist in the treatment of diseases caused by the liver, stomach and bowels, as a result of his wonderful prescription.

At first compounding the remedy for himself and for use in his own practice and among his own patients, there soon grew up such a demand for the Liver and Blood Syrup from others who had heard of its exceptional healing qualities, that Dr. Thacher was finally compelled to arrange for the production of medicine on a larger scale that was possible in his own private laboratory.

But never until now has it ever been possible to distribute this meritorious preparation universally among all the suffering people who might be benefited thereby.

FORMULA UNCHANGED

In his interesting career of overcoming suffering caused by the liver, stomach, bowels and blood, Dr. Thacher always used this same prescription as is now offered to the public in this section. In fact, even the name he gave to his rare combination of valuable vegetable roots, barks and herbs remains the same—Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup.

All through these years this wonderful medicine has gone ahead relieving people by the thousands of scores of miserable troubles, just the same as it did during the life of Grand Old Doctor Thacher. And now, at last, this priceless heritage is to be distributed broadcast among all the suffering people who desire it where it will undoubtedly contribute largely to the improvement of the health of our nation.

BIG DRUG FIRMS WIN THACHER AGENCY

Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup to Be Featured by Leading Druggists in Each Town and Sold on Money-Back Guarantee.

Following the fixed policy of the Thacher Sales Company to place the control of the sales of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup in the hands of only the most reliable and responsible druggists in each city, the announcement is made today that this valuable agency for Clearfield has been awarded to Stewart Drug Co., 207 Market street.

It is the intention of the Thacher Laboratories to make the distribution of this justly celebrated remedy as far-reaching as is humanly possible, and to enable every person in this state to have the opportunity of securing the same wonderful relief through the use of Dr. Thacher's prescription as has been the part of so many thousands of other suffering men and women.

It will be impossible, of course, to serve everybody immediately, but druggists who have been fortunate enough to secure the Thacher agency declare that they have made extra provision for this distribution and if the public will be patient everyone who desires the medicine will be supplied.

The public is also advised that no one need hesitate in ordering this meritorious medicine from the appointed agents of the Thacher Laboratories, who own the sole rights to the valuable formula of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup.

And in order to further aid in this work of bringing relief to weak, run-down, suffering men, women and children, it is announced that the purchase price of the first bottle of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup will be returned by the druggist, if it fails to benefit the patient.

The public is reminded that Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is sold by leading druggists. In Clearfield it is being featured by Stewart Drug Company, 207 Market street.

Auto-Intoxication Is Greatest Menace To Human Health, Declare Authorities.

Millions of people in America are slowly poisoning their own systems, is the startling statement made by leading scientists who have made an exhaustive study of present-day health conditions.

Auto-intoxication, as this practice is called, is not intentional, however, and continues its ravages upon the human system, extending the weakening effects throughout the entire body oftentimes without the patient's knowledge of any cause. But the insidious symptoms that follow the disease are very noticeable, and it is essential that vigorous steps be taken to overcome this menace that is rapidly rendering the American people a nation of weaklings.

Briefly the explanation of auto-intoxication is simply this:

In the process of digesting food a number of poisonous substances are produced, which, although absorbed in the alimentary canal, are prevented by the liver from entering the blood. But, as a result of our faulty habits of over-eating and improper living and working, the liver oftentimes breaks down under the strain or "gets lazy", as we say; then these poisons get into the blood and circulate to all parts of the system, actually poisoning the entire body. The intestines become clogged up; the stomach does not assimilate the food properly; the kidneys become deranged; the blood fills up with poisons, and the victim in this diseased state is an easy prey for the more insidious diseases.

LIVER IS TO BLAME

Symptoms of auto-intoxication may be associated with various nervous phenomena. Bile in the blood may be attended by stupor and mental depression, or a let-down feeling and the term melancholia, signifying black bile, indicates the importance which Dr. Thacher always attached to the liver, as an organ, the derangement of which is the foundation of most diseases and ill health.

A tired, dragging feeling of the body; sluggish mind and dull memory; intense headaches and nervousness; stomach and bowel troubles; poor circulation; imperfect digestion; constipation and drowsiness, are common symptoms of auto-intoxication, and every person should heed nature's warning when these feelings exist and take immediate steps to correct this condition before the disease has fastened itself upon the body.

HOW TO GET RELIEF

As a result of exhaustive tests and experiences of people in every walk of life, there is probably nothing that will bring relief to the miserable sufferer of auto-intoxication as surely and quickly as Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup.

This remarkable preparation, compounded of rare roots, barks and herbs, stimulates the liver to healthy action, clears out the intestines and assists the stomach to digest its food. The blood is then purified and the stored-up poisons driven from the body.

The result is that you soon begin to feel better; that heavy, dull feeling given way to one of energy and animation and shortly you feel strong, sturdy and well, as nature intends.

SHORT SESSION OF BOROUGH COUNCIL HELD LAST EVENING

Property Owners Paying
Sewer Claims Very
Promptly, Is Report of
Boro Solicitor Urey.

TOLICENSE JITNEYS

Eight members of Borough Council, with President Rosser, participated in the regular semi-monthly meeting of Council held in the Borough building last evening. There was very little business transacted and the session was a brief one.

Burgess, Kittelberger reported but four arrests during February with the collection of $25 in fines.

Clearfield Trust Co., Treasurer, reported a balance of $31,265.79 in the different funds of the Borough, the bond fund containing $21,000 of that amount.

Borough Solicitor Urey reported collections of $672.41 on Martin and Barclay street sewers and stated that he had to file liens against but four properties along the two sewers.

Secretary A. B. Reed of the Shade Tree commission presented the resignation of D. S. Bailey as a member of the commission, on account of his having removed from town. The resignation was accepted and President Rosser appointed Roll R. Thompson to succeed Dr. Bailey. Secretary Reed asked for an appropriation of $60 for 1923 and the same was granted.

Robert Sands and H. H. Bowes were present to complain of damage done to the properties on Turnpike avenue by surface water. The complaint was referred to the Street Committee or report at next meeting.

Simeon Cross was present and made complaint regarding his connection into alley sewer in rear of his property.

Cal. Johnson, representing the Workmen's Insurance Co., was present and asked permission to install a gas tank and curb pump in front of their Nichols street property and same was referred to Street Committee.

J. M. Rowles thought his sewer assessment on Martin street was excessive and asked Council to cut same in two, but was informed this could not be done, each property along the sewer must bear its pro rata share of the expense.

The question of an Ordinance covering the licensing and regulating of jitney and passenger carrying by automobiles over the streets of Clearfield was discussed and referred to the Street Committee for action.

HARDING-HUGHES FOR WORLD COURT; TO STUMP COUNTRY

Washington, March 6.—President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes during the long recess of Congress, will "stump" the country for American participation in the Permanent Court of International Justice at the Hague, according to close friends of the executives.

In much the same manner as Woodrow Wilson, four years ago, made an extended speaking tour of the country west of the Mississippi in the futile hope of obtaining the support of the people in the League of Nations question, President Harding this summer will go over a similar route in a direct appeal to the people, asking that the country ratify his proposal for American participation in the Arbitration Court.

Congress has provided for additional funds for an extended speaking tour of the President. Last year the President spent only one half of his semi-annual $25,000 fund for traveling expenses. In the deficiency bill, passed in the closing hours of Congress, it was provided that the unexpended balance must be added to the present funds.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Livergood at Woodland, a 9-pound boy baby.

THEY COME IN BUNCHES FOR THIS LOCK HAVEN FAMILY; FOUR PAIRS OF TWINS IS RECORD—THREE IN THREE YEARS

Lock Haven, March 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Watkins, residing on the Lock Haven Star Route, Woodward township, Clinton county, are believed to hold the record as parents of twins in this section, their fourth "set" of twins, a girl and a boy, having been born to them at their home Thursday. Three of the "pairs" were born in the past three years, which is also believed to establish a record. Mr. and Mrs. Watkins have been married eighteen years and are the parents of thirteen children.

Their first born were twins, William and Ward, now 17 years of age; other children are Edward, Samuel, Andrew, Daniel, Minnie and the latest three sets of twins, Raymond and Roy, Helen and Grace, and the most recent arrivals, who will be named David and Sarah.

Mr. Watkins is compelled to undertake the support of his large family with only one arm, his left arm having been shot off when he was but 16 years of age. He engages in farming and works as a laborer. He is 35 years of age; was born at Marsh Creek and removed to Woodward township when about 9 years of age.

Bar Meets To Honor Ex-Judge A. O. Smith

At a meeting of the Clearfield County Bar Association held in the court room at 10:30 this morning resolutions on the death of ex-Judge Allison O. Smith were presented by a committee composed of A. H. Woodward, W. C. Pentz and R. D. Snodgrass. The resolutions paid glowing tribute to the deceased jurist and were read by Mr. Woodward, whose emotions overcame him at times during the reading. The resolutions were unanimously adopted after which Judge Bell appointed a committee consisting of Geo. R. Bigler, chairman, W. A. Hagerty, James A. Gleason, John B. McGrath and J. P. O'Laughlin a general committee to arrange for a memorial session of the Bar Association at which time the resolutions will be presented and opportunity given for personal tributes of the members of the bar to their deceased colleague and friend. The bar voted to attend the funeral this afternoon in a body.

COMPENSATION LAWS OF THE STATE BEING GIVEN MUCH CONSIDERATION AT THIS SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE

Sweeping Changes Are Provided In Draft of
New Law Pinchot Offers for Criticism.

BOOSTS BENEFITS

Harrisburg, Mar. 6. (U. P.)—The new compensation code made for the following considerations that are not contained in the present act:

1. Extra-territoriality.
2. Compensation for occupational disease.
3. A seven instead of a ten-day waiting period.
4. 66 2/3 instead of 60 per cent of wages for disability.
5. Total disability compensation for life.
6. Indemnity for loss of fingers, toes, hearing in one or both ears and impairment of vision.
7. Payment of compensation to personal representative if there are no dependents.
8. Commutation of compensation for payments of mortgage only.

Harrisburg, Mar. 6. (U. P.)—The draft of the workers' compensation code which Governor Pinchot has offered for criticism and for which he disclaims responsibility, makes sweeping changes in the system embodied in the acts now on the statute books governing employers' liability in Pennsylvania.

The draft as submitted by the Governor for general discussion by all interested was prepared under the direction of Attorney General Woodward by compensation experts close to the administration. It was learned.

Four basic changes are incorporated in the new code. The first, in the order in which they appear in the proposed act, is the provision for extra-territoriality. Under this plan employees working in other states for Pennsylvania concerns are entitled to the benefits of the act in this state.

The second change in the law is to extend the provisions of what constitutes an "injury" to diseases that develop during employment or occupational diseases.

Revision of the compensation schedule from 60 to 66 2/3 per cent of wages for different degrees of disability constitutes the third important change proposed.

The fourth sweeping recommendation in the proposed act governs the rights of widows and dependents. Under the disability schedule the loss of fingers, thumbs, or toes may be compensable, while other departures are the inclusion in this class of such disabilities as loss of hearing of one or both ears or impairment of vision as well as loss of eyesight as at present provided.

Total disability may extend for life under the new act. The waiting period has been lessened from 10 to 7 days as the time for commencement of the disability.

The most startling change in the compensation bill is the extension of the benefits of dependents while the most drastic from the standpoint of administration of act is the restriction of commutations to beneficiaries.

If an employee dies without dependents compensation is to be paid to his personal representative, a thing not done at the present time. If there are no dependents or beneficiaries $25,533.500, but Dr. Finegan said no requests had been made for the difference of $477,345, as economic administration, he said, had resulted in saving the $485,586, which are available.

that the Board shall not commute the compensation payable to any employee or the dependent or other a debt secured by mortgage or a judgment filed as a lien upon the property of such employee or dependent, or to pay funeral or other expenses made in connection with compensation.

THE LOWLY MULE ON THE DECREASE IN PENNSYLVANIA

Harrisburg, Mar. 6. (U. P.)—The lowly mule is the only item of livestock in Pennsylvania who has been increasing in numbers up to the present day, according to figures issued by the Department of Agriculture.

The number of cattle in the state reached the high water mark in 1900 when there were 1,806,847. The high mark for sheep was in 1860 when there were 1,822,357. Sheep have dwindled in number to only 503,711 in 1920. The highest number of swine was reached in 1890 when there were 1,278,920. Horses were most numerous in 1890 when there were 618,660. The rise of the motor car decreased the number of horses to 505,999 in 1920, a decrease of 18 per cent in 30 years. The increasing mule numbered only 2,259 in 1860 and reached a high mark in 1920 with 35,081.

DR. FINEGAN IS UNTANGLING THE SCHOOL FUNDS

Harrisburg, March 5.—The appropriation of $2,871,911.00 provided under the budget appropriation bill to meet the deficiency in funds for payments on the state share of allotment to school districts, due February 1 last, is sufficient if unexpended balances in school funds are made available, Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, state superintendent of public instruction, told a sub-committee of the House appropriations committee today.

The committee did not go into the extent of needs for the next biennium, although Representative Thomas M. Whitman, Westmoreland county, sought to bring up the matter. Dr. Finegan announced his willingness to appear and answer all questions.

Representative Whitman started to inquire as to the difference of $4,500,000 in Dr. Finegan's estimates last fall of $35,000,000 for the coming two years, and recent estimates of $39,500,000, but the committee held that it should confine itself to the deficiency bill at present.

Earlier today Dr. Finegan transmitted to Governor Pinchot a statement of school needs, but the superintendent made no statement in reference to the Governor's letter to Chairman Haver, of the Appropriations committee, criticizing the manner in which estimates have been prepared. The governor declared the "essential necessity in the matter is in the interest of the children of the state and must not be allowed to be harmfully affected."

The $2,871,911.00 deficiency, Dr. Finegan told the sub-committee, is only to meet payments under the Education act to February 1 last. Two years ago, he said, he made an estimate of the cost for these payments during the following two years, $25,533,500. The legislature provided this and Governor Scriven cut off $2,000,000. The actual deficiency on hand at the present time, he said, is $2,871,911.00. The actual deficiency on hand at the present time, he said, is $2,871,911.00. The actual deficiency on hand at the present time, he said, is $2,871,911.00.

that the Board shall not commute the compensation payable to any employee or the dependent or other a debt secured by mortgage or a judgment filed as a lien upon the property of such employee or dependent, or to pay funeral or other expenses made in connection with compensation.

COMMERCIAL CLUB ENTERTAINS LADIES IN ELEGANT MANNER

The Ladies' Night observed by the Commercial Club last evening under the direction of President J. Paul Frantz and the hard-working entertainment committee, headed by R. S. Nightingale, was a great success in every particular.

Over one hundred members and invited guests were seated in the large dining room at the Dimeling hotel promptly on the hour scheduled and a fine dinner was immediately served.

The entertainment for the evening was of the highest order and the vocal solos by Miss Amelia Kolbe and Mrs. Harkins and the readings by Miss McMurray were thoroughly enjoyed and all responded to several encores. Miss Pearl Moore, president of the Junior Women's Club, responded to a call for a speech with a very neat and witty talk, in which she implied that the Junior Women's Club would be very glad to act as the Women's Auxiliary to the Commercial Club, as was suggested by President Frantz.

An orchestra was present for the first half hour of the dinner. Great disappointment was shown when a telegram, with regrets, was read from Rudolph Valentino.

The Club dispensed with the greater part of the regular business session, but listened very attentively to an explanation of the Clearfield County Boy's Disease Free Potato Club, and this important proposition will no doubt have the sanction of the Club and will be explained more fully to the general public within a few days.

A representative of the R. L. Polk Company requested the floor and asked for an endorsement of the work of this organization in Clearfield in order that he might go out and solicit business on the basis of that endorsement. The endorsement was very quickly given but just as quickly withdrawn when protests were uttered by members and the matter will be thoroughly investigated before the Polk company receives a full endorsement.

McNARY COULDN'T STAND UP UNDER SENATE CHARGES

Washington, March 5.—Because he did not have the full support of the Senate, James G. McNary, of Texas today declined to accept a recess appointment as comptroller of the currency.

Washington, March 5.—In the face of strong indications from the White House that President Harding will appoint James G. McNary, of Texas, to the post of comptroller of the currency, McNary today declined to accept a recess appointment as comptroller of the currency.

SEEKING TO PROVE USE AS DEFENSE

New Orleans, March 3.—Covering the 150 air-line miles from San Antonio to New Orleans in six hours flying time, twelve fliers of the United States Army Air Service in six De Havilland planes landed here at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, completing the first lap of a trip to Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

The squadron left Kelly Field at San Antonio shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. The only stop was at Houston, where the fliers ate lunch and rested an hour and a half. From Houston to New Orleans the flight was uninterrupted. The last 200 miles from Lake Charles was covered in two hours flat.

Captain Thomas G. Lanphier, commanding the squadron, said that low clouds interfered somewhat with the visibility, but there were no accidents. Most of the day's flight was at an altitude of 5000 feet and above, the squadron maintaining a V-shaped wedge formation. The flagship Man of War, with Captain Lanphier and Lieutenant I. G. Moorman, was the first to land, followed at two-minute intervals by the other planes.

The aviators were entertained to-night at a banquet given by the Military Order of the World War and the Aviation Board.

The squadron will "take off" at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow for the second lap of the journey, which will take the fliers to Montgomery, Ala.

Plans for the aerial defense of the Panama Canal and of the Gulf coast ports will depend in a large measure in the success of the present trip. This is the first time land machines have been tried out in a fight across water and should the venture prove successful it will prove the feasibility of mustering the entire air force of the country in the West Indies on "forty-eight hours' notice," it was stated.

"BAR FLIES" ONLY BAR TO DRY NATION SAYS HAZELTINE

Philadelphia, Mar. 6. (U. P.)—Prohibition will be absolutely effective in America in another fifty years when the "bar flies" have had time to die off, according to Frederick A. Hazeltine, new prohibition chief of Eastern Pennsylvania and Southern New Jersey.

"We have these old bar flies on our hands and we have to wait for them to go away," Hazeltine said. "If they persist in drinking the stiff boot-legger, who persist in that business will sell them then they won't last the fifteen years and we shall be rid of them sooner."

Anti-Flirt Club in Capitol

Because bold, bad men in the nation's Capital have failed to read their daily etiquette column, and hence overlooked the formality of an introduction, Washington girls have organized to protect themselves from unwelcome advances. There are some thirty members of the Anti-Flirt Club. Miss Alice Rightly, president.

Smith Hoyt, is able to be around again to greet his friends after having been laid up at the Park House of some time by an attack of pleuropneumonia.

O. C. Norris and H. J. Thompson, two Curwensville young men who are largely interested in coal mining in this section of the county, left Sunday for Springfield, Mass., and other northwestern cities to close up some yearly contracts for coal supply. The agreements to be entered into will be for a year, dating from April 1st.

Fred Lowder, who has been connected with the Libb drug store for the past six months, has resigned his position to accept a more lucrative situation in one of the large drug emporiums at Gettysburg, Pa. His host of Curwensville friends wish him an unbounded success and prosperity in his new home.

A union literary society will be held in the High School building this coming Friday evening. It is a sort of contest between the Gen. Patton and Col. Irvin societies. The full program will appear in the Progress Curwensville letter at the proper time.

Miss Walters and Miss Tate, both instructors in the High School building, spent the week-end with their parents, the former at East Freedom and the latter at Duncansville, Pa.

Miss Alice Harley was taken suddenly ill on Saturday and is now confined to her home on West State street. Her physician pronounced her ailment as strangulation of the bowels.

"Grandmother" Bixler, North Pine street, is quite ill suffering from an attack of the grippe.

Samuel Leonard was called to his old home at Everett, Pa., last week on account of the death and funeral of his father.

Mrs. C. W. Appleby, who spent all of last week with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. B. H. Conly, in this place, returned to her home in Tarentum, Pa., yesterday.

Arthur Robison and wife, of Punxsutawney, came in yesterday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Lex Caldwell held this afternoon.

Miss Lucy Spencer of Grampian, stenographer in the office of the Borough agency, was stricken suddenly Saturday by a heart attack and within a few minutes was quite critical. She is at the home of S. P. Brossler and improving.

Members of Greenwood Club held a general meeting the latter part of last week and among other matters of importance elected the following as officers to serve during the year: President L. C. Norris, of Clearfield; secretary Dan Irvin; treasurer, John W. Norris. A board of seven directors and a house committee were also chosen. Some repairs and improvements will be made to the club's holdings, and special attention will be given to road improvement leading to the club house and grounds. The Greenwood club house is becoming famous for miles around as a summer resort and were it not for the fact that the membership is limited to a certain number, names could be added that would make a scroll several yards in length.

Porter Searchlight Fyles took Sunday as a day for rummaging around in the brush looking for fox and groundhog tracks. He made a discovery which leads to authentic record that buck deer shed horns in early March. He was exhibiting a four-prong antler, found in the woods near Bill Bell's, that had been rubbed from a buck's head within a few days. The flesh was hardly dry on it. He saw the tree the animal used to de-horn himself.

A 25c luncheon will be served by the Ladies Aid of the M. E. church on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, consisting of salad, hot rolls andwiches and coffee.

If Back Hurts Flush Kidneys

Drink Plenty of Water and Take Glass of Salts Before Breakfast Occasionally

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active. Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

FORMER CLEARFIELD GIRL MARRIED

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. Fred Baker, an attorney at Los Angeles, Cal., when Miss Mildred Dietzel, daughter of Paul A. Dietzel, of Clearfield, was united in marriage to Mr. Fred H. Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baker. The home was beautifully decorated with California flowers, including bride's roses, orange blossoms and maidenhair fern. After a sumptuous wedding dinner the happy young couple departed on a wedding tour to Riverside and San Diego. The following persons, known in Clearfield, were present: Mrs. Paul A. Dietzel, Miss Lillian Dietzel, Wm. O. Reed and wife, Mrs. Elva Reed, Mrs. Margaret Wright Frankenberg, Sister Laura Gilliland, Sister Mable Dy-singer and Captain Richard Carr and wife of Ashland, Ky. The young couple received many pretty and valuable gifts.

Don't use the whip on tired nerves — it means trouble

When the day's work is hard, you can't make it easier with stimulants.

Ask any doctor for the facts.

You can't over-draw energy without paying.

Coffee contains the nerve-stimulating drug, caffeine. When coffee is used to overcome fatigue, it means whipping the tired nerves into a run.

You may seem to get added strength—but there's a settlement coming for an over-drawn account.

Take care!

Rest is the cure for fatigue. Health is the equipment for hard tasks.

Rest and health are interfered with when nerves are over-stimulated.

You've seen plenty of proof. How many people do you know who say, "I have to go slow on coffee; it keeps me awake nights?"

How is it in your own case? Have you counted restless night hours after the evening cup of coffee?

Treat your health sensibly that you may meet your task capably.

Don't try to draw strength from over-driven nerves. That way lies weakness. Don't increase over-work by using stimulants. You are merely postponing and increasing the penalties.

Be fair to yourself!

For a hot, comforting beverage, drink Postum and let nerves have their natural rest.

There's charm without harm in Postum—a delightful, satisfying cereal beverage; rich, seal-brown in color, delicious in flavor and aroma, and containing nothing that can irritate nerves or disturb health. Postum is safe and enjoyable for every member of the family.

Thousands who formerly used coffee or tea, and began to pay the penalties of nerve-stimulation, now use Postum and praise its comforting goodness.

The road to health is a good road for anybody to follow.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully 20 minutes.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The dollar is getting smaller weekly. Monday last it had only the same purchasing power as 60.7 cents in 1911, according to the index number of general prices compiled by Irving Fisher.

The peak of high prices was reached in May, 1920, when a dollar bought only as much as 40.5 cents in 1918. The dollar, as prices fell, the dollar rose. A year ago, in January, 1922, the dollar purchased the same amount of commodities as 72.6 cents before the war.

The purchasing power of the present dollar the last four weeks has been as follows:

ended February 10	63.1c
ended February 17	62c
ended February 24	62c
ended March 3	60.7c

The following from Monday's Albion Mirror contains much more of the same than poetry:

There is a lot of talk these days about law enforcement and so little about law observance.

The principal subject under which it is being said, both in private conversation and from the public platform, is the prohibition laws.

A speaker at a club meeting in Albion last week, in discussing the same, said that the American people today, declared that half of the United States are against the liquor laws.

He declared it was the duty of every citizen to obey the law of the land as long as it was a law, but the present law should be repealed because it was not being enforced, from his viewpoint, could be said.

One conclusion among those who have given the subject of prohibition the whole of their minds is that the enormous money that can be made at sales of intoxicants, what they are, what of the effects after the stomach.

They are out of bootlegging business would go to the state where men are tried and convicted of selling liquor are violating the liquor laws themselves by carrying their flask with them in their grips as they travel from place to place.

Right here is where the trouble comes in with prohibition. It is not the fault of the law at all. It is the fault of the man who violates the law, and the judge that transports a bottle of hooch should receive the same penalty that he imposes on the victim who is caught in the speak-easy or on the street with a bottle of the same concoction.

There are other laws in Pennsylvania and some national laws that are being violated and because they are violated is the very reason why they were on the statute books.

Ought we repeal the law against robbery because some one has the temerity to enter a store or a house at night and steal that which is not his own?

There are robberies being enacted every day of every week of every year and no doubt there will be for many years to come.

There are laws against vice in the underworld and these same laws are being violated every day. Is that any reason why they should be repealed? Who would want to go back to the days before we had these laws?

Law enforcement is a very difficult proposition on any subject. It has even resulted in wars.

We hear much about the so-called personal liberty as applied to prohibition. Prohibition is nothing more than a protection against an enemy that is ten times more deadly than any that ever made an attack on the United States.

It was never thought that prohibition would prohibit any more than the law against robbery will stop stealing, the law against murder stop killing, the laws against morality stop men and women moral or any other law as long as people believe themselves above the law and judges so far forget the dignity of the law they take a solemn oath and obligation to uphold and to violate its most vital provisions; to say nothing of making it known publicly that they hold contempt for the law.

There is no immediate danger of the prohibition law being repealed. There is not one half of the people in favor of repealing the law.

While the prohibition law may not be effectively enforced for some years to come, it is safe to say that it will prohibit what it is intended to prohibit in course of a few years, just to the same extent the laws against murder, arson, larceny, embezzlement, etc.,

How To Keep Your Baby Well

A Weekly Talk to Mothers Issued Through the Baby's Prophylactic Clinic, Henry Phipps Institute 7th & Lombard Streets, Philadelphia.

YOUR CHILD'S VANITY

Do not talk about your child in his presence. To discuss his character within his own hearing, especially with someone who is not a member of the family, will hurt his feelings if he is sensitive and shy, or make him conceited if he is inclined to be forward. In any case, it gives him the feeling that he is of undue importance, which is likely to make him egotistical.

Even if you are proud of your child, do not tell stories about him that will make him vain. It is a bad idea to praise or to censure him in public. Take him by himself to tell him of his virtues or his faults. In the first place, this will make a deeper impression; in the second, it will make him feel there is an understanding between him and you because no one else is present.

It is likewise a poor policy to let children hear gossip—unfavorable comments about neighbors—to whom in all probability you are courteous and friendly. Children are sometimes wiser than you think they are. They may come to doubt your sincerity.

To want our child to "show off" in public is another bad thing. It exaggerates his good opinion of himself because his audience is sure to make a fuss over him, and in most instances to overestimate his ability. Fortunately, the days for children to "show off" are out of style. Children are now differently taught. Unfortunately, however, most modern parents try so hard to give their boys and girls every possible educational and recreational advantage, that the youngsters come to believe that the world is made for their pleasure and comfort.

Teach your child to be natural. Encourage and praise him, when you can, but show him that, after all, he plays but a very small part in the scheme of things.

deter citizens from committing those crimes.

McNARY COULDN'T

comptroller of the currency despite the failure of the Senate to approve his nomination, Senator James Couzens, Republican, of Michigan, today issued a formal statement in which he made public for the first time the charges against McNary.

These charges involved McNary's transaction with his own bank at El Paso, Tex., and were the subject of a long investigation by the Senate banking and currency committee.

Among the charges made by Couzens against McNary were:

"1. That, for a period of more than five years, he was a continuous borrower from the bank of which he was president (First National Bank of El Paso, Tex.) in amounts ranging from $10,000 to $100,000, unsecured."

"2. That he, as directing head of the bank, was continuously criticized for excessive loans made to officers and directors; that, at one time, 88 per cent of the capital and surplus of the bank was loaned directly to officers and directors of the bank, and 9 per cent of the capital and surplus of the same bank to corporations in which said officials were interested."

Comparatively Unimportant. Mrs. Strongminded (about to start with the picnic party)—"Let me see—here are the wraps, here's the lunch basket, here's the opaca glass, and here's the bundle of umbrellas. I think we've got everything, and yet—children, we haven't forgotten anything, have we?" Husband and Father (standing meekly at the horses' heads)—"Still I get in now, my dear?" Mrs. Strongminded—"Why, to be sure, James. I knew there was something else."—Dallas News.

Chancellor Cuno may ask the Reichstag for authority to break off diplomatic relations with France. It appears to us that France, by her course, has already broken whatever relations might have existed.

President Harding has once more shown to the people of the nation that he is above the bickering of party ham stringing. Many of the bitter ender anti-League men in the Senate and in the Republican party misinterpreted the 1920 elections to mean that America wanted to be selfish and greedy, looking only to her own interests and forgetful of the fact that the well being of others contributes to our own safety. No question but that this view is held by the most powerful men in the party today, but Mr. Harding takes an independent view and does not hesitate to take what appears to him to be the proper course. In this course he will have the support of the great American people.

A few days ago a prominent man of Philadelphia raced past a trolley car, striking three people dead. Although he says he had drunk only two glasses of ale, those who saw his performance and observed his actions, declare he was intoxicated to the point where he was unfit to handle a car. He is held under $35,000 bail for court to answer charges of at least second degree murder.

Immediately the city authorities started in to arrest all reckless drivers and other law breakers and the first day's work netted 114 law breakers. Too bad they didn't start to do them up before and keep them rounded up. This one man, who killed three, would probably have been among them.

Clearfield has a lot of the same kind of fellows and one needs to stand on the court house corner only about fifteen minutes any evening to confirm our statement. A very large percentage of the drivers here are operating with no tail lights and other defects which are contrary to law.

Clearfield police will save themselves a lot of trouble in the future hunting for that fellow who ran over somebody and made his escape by reason of having no light to show his license number if they start right in now to enforce every item of the traffic laws.

Talk about your tales of boyhood adventure. Does not Vladimir Ponkey, the young lad who made his own way from a little village in far-off Austria to Clearfield, have a right to all the copyrights ever granted? Vladimir must have the right kind of stuff in him, and it is fortunate that the percentage allowed his native country was not all used up, for America surely will be the better off for having as one of her adopted sons such a lad as Vladimir Ponkey.

This city is bowed in grief today by the loss of such a good citizen as ex-Judge Allison O. Smith. His reputation on the bench was one of fairness, impartiality and courage, his private life a model which all men could follow, and his good judgment sought after by men in all walks of life. Even in recent years, when his health was bad and it was generally known that he could not give the best attention to his clients, he was overwhelmed with work, which was indeed a testimonial to the high regard in which he was held. During the World War he responded to every call made on his time and worldly goods and was in every respect the ideal citizen.

STRONG PROTEST BY
GERMAN REICHSTAG;
FEAR ANNEXATION

Berlin, March 6.—Chancellor Cuno convened the Reichstag today for a meeting of strong protest against extension of the French occupation of the Ruhr and Rhineland territory. Even as Parliament met, word was received that the French had pushed forward further, occupying Remscheid, Kronenberg and Wipperfurth south by southeast of Düsseldorf. This move widens the base of the Ruhr salient.

Speakers of all parties of the Reichstag had vigorous speeches ready for the crowded house when the members met. The session was two days in advance of the date scheduled, Chancellor Cuno having called it hurriedly when Düsseldorf, Karlsruhe and Mannheim were occupied.

Paris, March 6.—The French have ready a refutation of Chancellor Cuno's charges and protests regarding extension of the occupied areas. A semi-official note denied that France had any idea of seeking annexations and points out that she has expended nearly forty-five billions of francs on the devastated areas while Germany's total reparations payments have been but six million marks and that the Germans, having manipulated the marks, are buying coal abroad.

consider intervention at the present time Chancellor Cuno declared in a speech to the Reichstag today, dealing with the situation in the Ruhr. Later the Chancellor states the German Government might allow a third party to intervene provided Germany entered into any agreement reached on an equal footing. Cuno frequently alluded to France's alleged atrocities in the occupied areas.

"It is strange that the world is aware of France's activities in the Ruhr without making any effort to intervene," he said.

A crowded house heard the Chancellor's address. The parliament had been convened two days before the date set, following French occupation of Mannheim, Karlsruhe and Darmstadt.

Dr. Thacher's Great Prescription To Be Given To The Public

THOUSANDS BENEFIT AS RESULT

Renowned Physician Compounds Great Medicine

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE ARE POISONED

Declared To Be a Great Remedy For Building Up Weak, Ailing, Run-down People.

Dr. Thacher's celebrated Liver and Blood Syrup, which accomplished such remarkable results in the practice of this renowned physician, will be ready for distribution among the sick and suffering here immediately.

Of profound interest to the public in general and to the thousands of sufferers from the every-day complaints that make their lives miserable and destroy their efficiency and happiness, is the announcement that Dr. Thacher's celebrated Liver and Blood Syrup is at last to be placed within reach of every man, woman and child in this state.

This excellent remedy that has been creating a sensation as the result of its powers in restoring weak, run-down, suffering men and women to the joys of perfect health, is compounded from the favorite prescription of one of the most worthy physicians of the country—Dr. H. S. Thacher, who for many years practiced his profession with signal success in the city of Chattanooga, Tenn.

"Keep your liver working properly and nine times out of ten you will stay well and happy," said Dr. Thacher nearly a quarter of a century ago.

PROVED HIS THEORY

Dr. Thacher proved his theory of health was right, but he also found that a disordered liver oftentimes cripples the stomach, locks up the bowels and poisons the blood. So he set about to perfect a medicine that would, first, regulate the liver, second, tone up the stomach, third, clean out the intestines and fourth, purify the blood.

Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup was the result, and throughout his lifetime, this venerable doctor created a wide reputation as a specialist in the treatment of diseases caused by the liver, stomach and bowels, as a result of his wonderful prescription.

At first compounding the remedy for himself and for use in his own practice and among his own patients, there soon grew up such a demand for the Liver and Blood Syrup from others who had heard of its exceptional healing qualities, that Dr. Thacher was finally compelled to arrange for the production of medicine on a larger scale that was possible in his own private laboratory.

But never until now, has it ever been possible to distribute this meritorious preparation universally among all the suffering people who might be benefited thereby.

FORMULA UNCHANGED

In his interesting career of overcoming suffering caused by the liver, stomach, bowels and blood, Dr. Thacher always used this same prescription as is now offered to the public in this section. In fact, even the name he gave to his rare combination of valuable vegetable roots, barks and herbs remains the same—Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup.

All through these years this wonderful medicine has gone ahead relieving people by the thousands of scores of miserable troubles, just the same as it did during the life of Grand Old Doctor Thacher. And, now, at last, this priceless heritage is to be distributed broadcast among all the suffering people who desire it where it will undoubtedly contribute largely to the improvement of the health of our nation.

BIG DRUG FIRMS WIN THACHER AGENCY

Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup to Be Featured by Leading Druggists in Each Town and Sold on Money-Back Guarantee.

Following the fixed policy of the Thacher Sales Company to place the control of the sales of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup in the hands of only the most reliable and responsible druggists in each city, the announcement is made today that this valuable agency for Clearfield has been awarded to Stewart Drug Co., 207 Market street.

It is the intention of the Thacher Laboratories to make the distribution of this justly celebrated remedy as far-reaching as is humanly possible, and to enable every person in this state to have the opportunity of securing the same wonderful relief through the use of Dr. Thacher's prescription as has been the part of so many thousands of other suffering men and women.

It will be impossible, of course, to serve everybody immediately, but druggists who have been fortunate enough to secure the Thacher agency declare that they have made extra provision for this distribution and if the public will be patient everyone who desires the medicine will be supplied.

The public is also advised that no one need hesitate in ordering this meritorious medicine from the appointed agents of the Thacher Laboratories, who own the sole rights to the valuable formula of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup.

And in order to further aid in this work of bringing relief to weak, run-down, suffering men, women and children, it is announced that the purchase price of the first bottle of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup will be returned by the druggist, if it fails to benefit the patient.

The public is reminded that Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is sold by leading druggists. In Clearfield it is being featured by Stewart Drug Company, 207 Market street.

Auto-Intoxication Is Greatest Menace To Human Health, Declare Authorities.

Millions of people in America are slowly poisoning their own systems, is the startling statement made by leading scientists who have made an exhaustive study of present-day health conditions.

Auto-intoxication, as this practice is called, is not intentional, however, and continues its ravages upon the human system, extending the weakening effects throughout the entire body oftentimes without the patient's knowledge of any cause. But the insidious symptoms that follow the disease are very noticeable, and it is essential that vigorous steps be taken to overcome this menace that is rapidly rendering the American people a nation of weaklings.

Briefly the explanation of auto-intoxication is simply this:

In the process of digesting food a number of poisonous substances are produced, which, although absorbed in the alimentary canal, are prevented by the liver from entering the blood. But, as a result of our faulty habits of over-eating and improper living and working, the liver oftentimes breaks down under the strain or "gets lazy", as we say; then these poisons get into the blood and circulate to all parts of the system, actually poisoning the entire body. The intestines become clogged up; the stomach does not assimilate the food properly; the kidneys become deranged; the blood fills up with poisons, and the victim in this diseased state is an easy prey for the more insidious diseases.

LIVER IS TO BLAME

Symptoms of auto-intoxication may be associated with various nervous phenomena. Bile in the blood may be attended by stupor and mental depression, or a let-down feeling and the term melancholia, signifying black bile, indicates the importance which Dr. Thacher always attached to the liver, as an organ, the derangement of which is the foundation of most diseases and ill health.

A tired, dragging feeling of the body; sluggish mind and dull memory; intense headaches and nervousness; stomach and bowel troubles; poor circulation; imperfect digestion; constipation and drowsiness, are common symptoms of auto-intoxication, and every person should heed nature's warning when these feelings exist and take immediate steps to correct this condition before the disease has fastened itself upon the body.

HOW TO GET RELIEF

As a result of exhaustive tests and experiences of people in every walk of life, there is probably nothing that will bring relief to the miserable sufferer of auto-intoxication as surely and quickly as Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup.

This remarkable preparation, compounded of rare roots, barks and herbs, stimulates the liver to healthy action, clears out the intestines and assists the stomach to digest its food. The blood is then purified and the stored-up poisons driven from the body.

The result is that you soon begin to feel better, that heavy, dull feeling given way to one of energy and animation and shortly you feel strong, sturdy and well, as nature intends.

THE LEEDS BANK ROBBERY

BY E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Copyright, 1923, by E. Phillips Oppenheim

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MR. NORMAN GRAY, formerly of Scotland Yard, is devoting his time to tracking down the Leeds bank robbery.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY

St. Norman resumes: "You seem to have done every thing possible, St. Norman," I said at last. "Yes, I think, as my Norway friend has said, I shall go up to the bank for a fortnight. I could use the time to look over the Leeds and see if I can pick anything up."

"Exactly what I hoped you would do," he continued eagerly. "I have brooded over the affair so long that I can think of nothing but the obvious side. The Chief will give you a letter to the Leeds people. Would you like me to come with you?"

"Thank you very much," I replied.

"That night I traveled down to Leeds."

There was nothing about the neighborhood which differed markedly from the description I had been given. The hour of the robbery had been committed, walked from the grocery store to the bank, carefully locking myself, and made about five hundred yards inside the shop. The neighborhood seemed to be thickly built over and populated in patches, but here and there were vacant lots. The land opposite the grocery was marked out for building, but operations as yet had not been begun. Later in the day I traveled to the ground in my favorite public-house. Choosing my opportunity, I addressed him:

"Are you the man whom the police made look after themselves about the bank robbery?"

"What the hell's that to do with me?" he answered.

"His tone was truculent, but he obviously only needed a little humor."

"Just this much," I replied. "I am a journalist representing one of the papers. It would be worth a shilling to you if you would let me do a sketch of you."

"His manner changed at once."

"You don't want an interview?"

"Not likely," I answered him, coming across a rough sketch in a note book which I had put into my pocket for that purpose. "I read the case myself. A fact could be that you had nothing to do with it."

"He stopped drinking and looked at me curiously."

"If I were the police," I went on, "I should want to know a little more about the two lads who are away to Scotland."

"Then you're a bit of a fool as the police," he retorted gruffly. "I haven't nothing to do with it. They were all right up to the point and either of them hanged from the gallows."

"I smiled in a superior way and went on to the bank. He went out with the door closed."

"Told me that," I said to myself, "but what was the point of that?"

"I don't know," I said to myself, "but what was the point of that?"

"What do you know?" I asked myself.

"I checked the subject, finished my cigarette and banded over the five pounds. That night I caught the mail train to Scotland."

"It took me less than a week to discover the whereabouts of the man and the woman who I learned were passing under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grey. On the morning after my arrival at the very remote corner of Scotland where they had taken up their temporary abode, I committed the robbery."

Anyone who went to the Driggs theatre last evening saw Mae Murray in "The Broadway Rose" and saw Mae at her best. It was a picture that has opportunities to bring out the best that was in the entire cast and they embraced these opportunities from start to finish.

Jackie Coogan, the little star who has won the hearts of millions of Americans, has made another picture, which will be seen at the Driggs theatre, starting a two-day engagement Wednesday. It is "My Boy," an Associated First National attraction, and is by far the best thing this little actor has ever done.

The story is grippingly effective, and contains both humor and pathos. Jackie plays the part of an immigrant orphan, who, although only six years of age, is faced with the necessity of making his own living. His start in the game of life is effectively consummated through his clever "bawling" work, and it is not long before good fortune smiles upon him.

Claude Dillingwater and Mathilda Brundage are among the supporting cast.

A new James Oliver Curwood picture, "The Broken Silence," will be shown at the Driggs theatre Friday and Saturday. This production, which was made by Pine Tree Pictures, Inc., and directed by Dell Henderson, and which is, incidentally, the third picture of the Curwood series to be released by Arrow, gives promise of being the most elaborate and most pleasing to reach the screen thus far.

The story, a fascinating tale of love and intrigue, moves from one dramatic episode to another, culminating in a tremendous climax that comes as forcefully as a thunderbolt.

Zena Keefe, the featured player, was the star of many big successes in the past, including "Red Foam" and "The Woman God Sent." She rises, under the able direction of Dell Henderson, to new emotional heights, and again demonstrates conclusively that she is not only a beautiful girl but a splendidly gifted artist.

Supporting cast is more than adequate and includes some of the best-known screen players of the present day, among whom may be mentioned J. Barney Sherry, known for his pleasing performance in many Marshall Neilan productions; Robert Elliott, star of stage and screen; Gypsy O'Brien, Roy Gordon and many others of almost equal prominence.

"Just would desert me if I did," he declared with a grim smile. "I have these little conferences with you."

"I am not sure of me with that wonderful sense of humor. She was a little bit behind from her husband."

"I do not like to hear you say that we are enemies," she murmured. "I would rather think that we are like the soldiers who fight in two opposing armies."

"We fight because it is our duty. So we are enemies because it is our duty. Even that does not interfere with personal feeling."

"That is true," I admitted eagerly. "I could never understand how a man who played such good stuff as yours played."

"And what about me?" she demanded.

"You drive me to be obedient," I replied. "No one could possibly find the person who contributed to the safety of the world."
